

The present legislation is working well in Wisconsin-- any attempt to weaken the present laws would be a step backward in maintaining any privacy and peacefulness in the home.